

Analysis of social sector indicators focusing on situation of children and women in Odisha

Client:

Location: Odisha

Contributes to SDG(s)

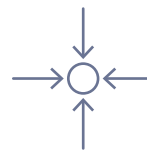

ISSUE

UNICEF as part of its Child Rights Advocacy Initiative with select Members of Odisha Legislative Assembly proposed to create factsheets on key social indicators focussing on situation of women and children for the state and all districts of Odisha. The objective was to share the fact sheets with readily accessible data on key indicators with policy makers so that towards ensuring child rights they raise issues pertaining to children in the media, floor of the Assembly; and in the general public policies sphere.

INTERVENTION

SDRC, as the consulting organisation, tried to achieve the basic project objective of making available datasets, organised by theme and geography, that could be presented as an effective advocacy tools for legislatures, policy makers, practitioners, academia, media as well as research scholars/organisations. These factsheets were to be used as a tool for programming, policy making research and also for discussions and debates for supporting informed decision making.

Data in the factsheets were sourced from Census, Annual Health Surveys (AHS) and District Information System for Education (DISE).

OUTCOME

One state level factsheet and 30 district level factsheets on the social sector indicators available for sharing with policy makers, research organizations, academia, media and civil society organisations.

